Some Baseball Talk

By HALF NELSON.

begin to climb, and the prediction now is that the Colts will begin to climb from now on. To climb up on the backs of Steve Griffin's Bugs is a matter for deep consideration, but the prediction holds good. A worse per-formance than yesterday's could hardly have been given. Everything hap-pened to put the Colts in bad that could happen, and it is hoped no later than right now what Dame Fortune has used up all her arrows. Certainly she was Outrageous Fortune yesterday.

Just by way of remark, however, Steve Griffin has get together a gang of basebail players that go after the game from start to finish. The team is marked with Griffin's fine Italian hand, and the way it plays the game from the inside worth watching. Every man on the team is a part of a machine, and the parts seem to have been well greased and cared for.

Griffin yesterday sold Bussey, who made two hits and held the Coits down to four hits in seven innings Thursday, to the Goldsboro ciub, in North Carolina. In getting Bussey, Goldsboro is doing rather well. He seems to be a rather good performer in the box, and on last Thursday he swatted out two hits, one of them a double. His usual performance was somewhat overshadowed, however, Thursday, and Griffin decided that he could do better, Fanwell, who pitched for Danville Friday, left yesterday to secure a pitcher for Griffin that he knew about. where the pitcher is or who he is, is not known to outsiders. At any rate, Fanwell expects to return to-morrow with the new one, and Richmond may go against him.

would get the franchise. There will be no opposition to the removal of the franchise except from the Ports.

After such a performance as was funds will not hit any one man too given yesterday it is usual for the hard, and there will be a great deal team making such a performance ta

Laughlir, received a rather bad bruise on his shin yesterday when a tip foul caught him full on the tender bone. It was thought at first that a blood vessel had been broken, but an examination made during the Bugs' time at bat showed that the muscles and bone were oadly bruised. A large lump sprouted out over the shin, and Laughlin didn't walk with any degree of comfort, but he stuck to the game and played until the end.

with Cy MacDonald, Curley Brown and Bussey to form a nucleus, the Goldsboro baseball club has a rather good chance for a classy team. Brown and MacDonald are real stars at the game, and Bussey is no slouch for the company that he has entered. The Goldsboro management has got together a good set to back up the nucleus, and it is expected that that team will be heard from in North Carolina.

Verbout and Revelle will figure in the pitcher's box in to-morrow's games, and both are determined to wrest at least one game from Danville before the Richmond series closes. It would be a shame to allow Danville to take five straight games, and the Colts are going after something.
